From Security to Lighting Controls and Entertainment, a Robust Network is at the Heart of In-demand Technologies

EAGAN, MN, February 6, 2019 – Capitol, the leading consumer electronics distribution source for residential systems and light commercial contractors, will roll into Nationwide PrimeTime, February 10 – 13 in Las Vegas, NV, with a massive selection of Connected Home and A/V gear that represents the most lucrative product categories in the consumer electronics and custom integration channels.

To be held at the Venetian/Palazzo and Sands Expo, Nationwide PrimeTime brings the electronics lead manufacturers and distributors under one roof for three days of extensive hands-on training and product demonstrations. Additionally, Capitol dealers are invited to stop by the booth for cash-back offers that are only applicable on orders written at the show.

“You’d be hard-pressed to find another forum that matches the depth of education and exposure to innovation that you find at Nationwide PrimeTime events,” said Curt Hayes, President and CFO, Capitol. “Membership in the Nationwide Marketing Group is one of the most vital investments for dealers.”

Capitol's booth, #833, will be packed with leading manufacturers' star attractions. Included in the mix will be Lutron's Caseta Lamp Starter Kit, featuring a plug-in lamp dimmer and Pico remote control.

Also, in the spotlight will be Onkyo's 7.2-channel 4K Network Receiver, the ultimate networked home entertainment AVR that works with Google Assistant. Model TXNR585 features 170W/ch at 6 Ohms (80W at 8), 5.2.2 channel Dolby Atmos and DTS:X. In addition, it is HDR10 and Dolby Vision compatible, and Chromecast and DTS Play-Fi ready.
